Superman (1938)

“The Reign of the Super-Man” (1933)

Detective Comics #27 (May 1939)

From Grant Morrison, Supergods (25-26)

“Batman was born of the deliberate reversal of everything in the Superman dynamic: Superman was an alien with incredible powers; Batman was a human being with no superhuman abilities. Superman’s costume was brightly colored; Batman’s was grayscale and somber with mocking flashes of yellow. In his secret Clark Kent identity, Superman was a hardworking farmer’s son who grew up in small-town Kansas, while Batman’s Bruce Wayne enjoyed life as a wealthy playboy—an East Coast sophisticate descended from old money. Clark had a boss; Bruce had a butler. Clark pined after Lois; Bruce burned through a string of debutantes and leading ladies. Superman worked alone; Batman had a boy partner, Robin, who wore green briefs, a black mask, and a yellow cape. Superman was of the day; Batman was of the night and the shadows. Superman was rational, Apollonian; Batman was Dionysian. Superman’s mission was the measured allotment of justice; Batman’s, an emotive two-fisted ask-questions-later vendetta.”

Crime Does Not Pay (1942-55)

“In 1948, the 80 million to 100 million comic books purchased in America every month generated annual revenue for the industry of at least $72 million ... Hardcover book publishing, by comparison, brought in about $285 million”

Association of Comics Publishers Code (1948)

1. Sexy, wanton comics should not be published. No drawing should show a female indecently or unduly exposed, and in no event more nude than in a bathing suit commonly worn in the United States of America.
2. Crime should not be presented in such a way as to throw sympathy against the law and justice or to inspire others with the desire for imitation. No comics shall show the details and methods of a crime committed by a youth. Policemen, judges, Government officials, and respected institutions should not be portrayed as stupid, ineffective, or represented in such a way to weaken respect for established authority.
3. No scenes of sadistic torture should be shown.
4. Vulgar and obscene language should never be used. Slang should be kept to a minimum and used only when essential to the story.
5. Divorce should not be treated humorously or represented as glamorous or alluring.
6. Ridicule or attack on any religious or racial group is never permissible.

Dark Knight Returns and Watchmen

- Gritty realism reflecting social anxieties, such as nuclear war
- Flawed heroes and meta commentary
- Experimental in form (esp. Watchmen) and with established characters
- Aimed at adult audiences

Batman's Chest

Rorschach's Shoes

Maus (86-87)

Maus

- Gritty historical or (auto)biographical realism, but stylized
- Comics' image-text form creates opportunities for bearing witness
- Biography, memoir, photography

Maus – witnessing, documentary

- Draws attention to history and to the “real” world
- Levels of iconicity or realism
- Iconic – bears some relatively unambiguous relationship to reality
- Investigates the boundaries of what comics can do

Persepolis (2000)

THE KEY TO PARADISE WAS FOR POOR PEOPLE. THOUSANDS OF YOUNG KIDS, PROMISED A BETTER LIFE, EXPLODED ON THE MINEFIELDS WITH THEIR KEYS AROUND THEIR NECKS.

MRS. NASHINE'S SON MANAGED TO AVOID THAT FATE, BUT LOTS OF OTHER KIDS FROM HIS NEIGHBORHOOD DIDN'T.

MEANWHILE, I GOT TO GO TO MY FIRST PARTY, NOT ONLY DID MY MOM LET ME GO, SHE ALSO KNITTED ME A SWEATER FULL OF HOLES AND MADE ME A NECKLACE WITH CHAINS AND NAILS. PUNK ROCK WAS IN.

I WAS LOOKING SHARP.

THE Heathville

CONFESSIONS

Ed. Miller or J. S. Miller

NAT TURNER,

THE LEADER OF THE LATE

INSURRECTION IN SOUTHAMPTON, VA.

As fully and voluntarily made to

THOMAS R. GRAY,

in the prison where he was confined, and acknowledged by him to be such when read before the Court of Southampton, with the certificate, under seal of the Court convened at Jerusalem, Nov. 2, 1831, for his trial.

ALSO, AS AUTHENTIC

ACCOUNT OF THE WHOLE INSURRECTION,

WITH LISTS OF THE WHITES WHO WERE MURDERED,

AND OF THE NEGROES BROUGHT BEFORE THE COURT OF SOUTHAMPTON, AND THERE SENTENCED, &c.

Baltimore:

PUBLISHED BY THOMAS R. GRAY,

Lucas & Decker, print.

1831.

FROM THE CONFESSIONS OF NAT TURNER

"My father and mother strengthened me in this, my first impression, saying in my presence I was intended for some great purpose, which they had always thought from certain marks on my head and breast... My grandmother, who was very religious, and to whom I was much attached—my master, who belonged to the church, and other religious persons who visited the house, and whom I often saw at prayers, noticing the singularity of my manners, I suppose, and my uncommon intelligence for a child, remarked I had too much sense to be raised, and if I was, I would never be of any service to any one as a slave..."
