Now, take another look at your score. What area needs the most improvement?

You can take a "course" to improve your weak areas (in this case Rhetorical Skills) using the LEL database.

Design Your Plan of Attack with LEL

- Practice the tests first.
- Discover what areas are your greatest weaknesses.
- Dive into the LEL courses on each area, to bolster your knowledge and strengthen weak areas.

Work on other areas as needed...

- After taking practice tests in different areas (Math, Science, Reading, English, and Writing) work on the corresponding courses in those sections.
- After studying the course, take a different practice test to see how you have improved.

You can return to tests or courses you've already started another day, or begin a new one at anytime...
